Two Run for State Senator And Seven for State Delegate

by James Giese

Nine candidates have filed with the Maryland Board of Elections as candidates for the Maryland General Assembly. Two are seeking the office of State Senator and the remainder are seeking election to one of three slots in the Maryland House of Delegates. All are Democrats except for Dominique T. Brown, a Republican candidate for delegate. Two of the candidates are from Greenbelt – Richard R. Pilski for senator and Justin D. Ross for delegate. The deadline for filing as a candidate for the General Assembly was July 8. The filing deadline was postponed from July 1 because of the change in legislative district boundaries recently ordered by the Maryland Supreme Court.

Senate

State Senator Paul Pinski (D-University Park) is seeking reelection to his third term in the senate. He is currently the chair of the Prince George's County Senate delegation and sits on the Education, Health and Environmental Committee.

Richard R. Pilski (D-Greenbelt) was a Greenbelt city councilmember for more than 20 years, serving briefly in 1963 and continuously from 1965 to 1985. During this time, he served as mayor for more than six years.

House of Delegates

Dominique T. Brown (R) is a resident of Landover Hills.

Tawanna P. Gaines (D-Berwyn Heights) is seeking election to her first full term, having been appointed on December 21, 2001 to complete the term of Richard A. Palumbo who was appointed a District Court Judge. She was the mayor of Berwyn Heights at the time of her appointment. She was the first woman and the first African-American to hold that position. She serves on the House Judiciary Committee and works at the University of Maryland.

Anne Healey (D-Hyattsville) is seeking re-election to her fourth term and has been the vice chair of the Ways and Means Committee since 1997. She was a member of the Hyattsville city council from 1987 to 1990. She is a freelance writer and editor.

David R. Merkowitz (D-College Heights Estates) is seeking his first election to the House of Delegates. He has been a senior staff member in the U.S. House of Representatives and has taught at the University of Maryland. He has been the PTA president of both Hyattsville Middle School and Eleanor Roosevelt High School and is currently serving on the state's Higher Education Labor Relations Board. He has also served on the Democratic Central Committee since 1994.

Justin D. Ross (D-Greenbelt) spent his early childhood in University Park and later moved to Greenbelt, where he graduated from Eleanor Roosevelt High School and attended the University of Maryland. He is a member of the Democratic Central Committee. Ross had purchased a home in College Park in a section that was to be in the 22nd district until the Maryland Supreme Court redrew the district's boundary lines. Having already declared his candidacy for the House of Delegates, he chose to move back into the Greenbelt home owned by his mother so as to maintain his eligibility as a 22nd District candidate.

Richard Pilski Files for Senate

by Virginia Beauchamp

"It's time for Greenbelt to become top dog," said former Greenbelt Mayor Richard Pilski, explaining why he decided to run for state senator in the 22nd legislative district following the recent redistricting. Pilski, 77, submitted his application on Monday, July 8, the final date of the newly extended period for filing. "I decided to do it when I saw that no one from here filed," Pilski said. He added that he had been expecting a younger Greenbelt politician to take advantage of this new opportunity.

Although he expressed appreciation for the quality of representation Greenbelt has received in the previous years within the 23rd district, Pilski said he believes the city should have its own legislative spokesman. "It's the best opportunity we've ever had," he said. Two members of his campaign team have already agreed to serve, he added – Pat McAndrew as campaign manager and Jackie Shabe-Rochefort as treasurer.

A number of people have noted that only one letter differentiates Pilski's name from that of the current incumbent, Senator Paul Pinski. "I'm relying on the people who can't spell," Pilski joked. He indicated that his name, in alphabetical order, would come first.

Mike Burchick - an Example Of an Outstanding Citizen

by James Giese

Ten years ago "One of the best known people in Greenbelt and one of the best liked," was named the 21st Outstanding Citizen of Greenbelt. A 50-year resident, Michael Burchick was also called "a consummate volunteer" and "a modest and value-centered man." Those values in a person are still being sought every year by the Greenbelt Outstanding Citizen's Committee.

Nominations are currently being sought to honor one individual for her or his efforts as a volunteer to make Greenbelt a better place in which to live. Anyone who knows someone who has the qualities that the committee seeks to recognize can submit a nomination simply by writing a letter or completing the nomination form to be found in this newspaper. Nominations are due August 5 at the home of Bob Zugby, 94 Ridge Road, Greenbelt, MD 20770.

Mike Burchick died a little more than a year ago. He was 84. Although age and infirmities had forced him to curtail his activities, Burchick remained to the end a man devoted to his community and his church. In his life and the nearly 59 years he lived in Greenbelt, Burchick helped to found Greenbelt Homes, Inc., the co-operative that bought most of the original homes built in Greenbelt from the federal government, helped to organize St. Hugh's parish of the Catholic Church, and helped organize the Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative, the co-op that now owns and operates the Co-op Supermarket in Roosevelt Center.

Burchick served on the Labor Day Festival Committee where he organized the bingo for United Cerebral Palsy. He also served on the city's 50th anniversary committee, with the Boy Scouts, the Lion's Club, the Greenbelt Credit Union and the Woodland Hills Community Association co-operative. He worked for the revitalization of Roosevelt Center, the city's original planned shopping center. He held many offices in his church and was active in the Knights of Columbus where he was invested in the

by Virginia Beauchamp

All five announced Democratic candidates for the post of Prince George's County executive have accepted an invitation by State Senator Leo Green to participate in a Saturday morning forum on July 13. The program will be held at 8 a.m. at the Patuxent Wildlife Visitors Center off Powder Mill Road.

Candidates who will participate include Rushern Baker, Jim Estep, Jack Johnson, Anthony Muse, and Major Riddick. In addition, recently-announced Republican candidate Audrey Scott has told Senator Green that she plans to be present, although not as a participant. The program was conceived as a platform for the Democratic candidates to define themselves and their issues prior to the September 3 primary election.

Green, host for the event, will moderate the forum. Each candidate will be allowed a formal, five-minute presentation. Later all candidates will have an opportunity to respond to written questions submitted by members of the audience.

The general public is invited, as well as members of the Democratic Clubs in the 23rd legislative district and the Greenbelt Democratic Club, which, since the invitation was first extended, now finds itself in the 22nd district. Coffee and donuts will be provided.

To reach the Patuxent National Wildlife Visitor Center, take the Baltimore-Washington Parkway north to Powder Mill Road. After the exit turn east (to the right) and travel about two miles to the gate, which will be on the right. A drive through the woods leads to the Center parking lot.

Greenbelt Theatre Brings Memories

Memories! Good to see the classic movies (and even with bonus cartoons and action features). Congratulations - to the Old Greenbelt Theatre and to the Prince George's County Library - for making these movies available for a new generation to enjoy.

Back when most of the world was struggling with Great Depression uncertainty, people welcomed escape to the glamour, the refreshing Big Band music and dance shown in Fred Astaire's movies.

Back when flight was still new and hardly anyone had ever gone up in an "aeroplane," it was exotic to "Fly down to Rio" - especially with a love story and a Big Band competition, and meeting of two cultures. Even the movie views of the scenery from the air were brand new to most people in the early 1930s. And to see young, beautiful women dancing atop the wings of planes in mid-air - well, that dream is as refreshing in the 21st century as it was in the first third of the 20th! (Artistic creativity)

Note: You can see a Monocoupe airplane (like the one landed by the bandleader and the young Brazilian woman on the island) at the College Park Aviation Museum today. Also a Lockheed Vega monoplane (shown with the women dancing in a line atop the wing) is displayed at the Smithsonian National Air and

Space museum. (In 1932, Amelia Earhart flew this Vega across the Atlantic!)

A Bit of History On the Prayer Issue

With regard to a recent letter stating that the matter of "a little prayer" was settled 40 years ago (I assume the writer refers to the Supreme Court decision), it is interesting to note that the U.S. Constitution, the Federalist papers and the Declaration of Independence nowhere mentioned the "separation of church and state."

The First Amendment reads as follows:

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people to peaceably assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The phrase "separation of church and state" first appeared in 1802 in a private letter written by Thomas Jefferson to the Danbury Baptists of Connecticut. The letter was written to assure the Baptists that they would always be free to practice their particular faith without government interference in largely Congregationalist Connecticut.

Orioles Tame Lions: Repeat as Champions

by Greg Fisanich

In the league championship series, the #2 Orioles defeated the #1 Athletics to win the American League championship. In the National League, the Lions went undefeated, 17 to 0. The #1 Lions defeated the #2 Cardinals for the National League Championship.

In the city championship, the Orioles prevailed 1 to 0 in game 1. With defense by both teams playing strong, a passed ball scored the lone run. Game 2 went to the Orioles 6 to 3, with awesome defense by Orioles shortstop Angel Martinez preventing the Lions from scoring lots of runs in both games. Afterwards, Orioles longtime Manager Hal Silverman strutted around like a rooster celebrating his repeat championship.

New Group to Help New Deal Café

by Mary Moien

A new organization has just been formed in Greenbelt - the Friends of the New Deal Café Arts. The Friends has recently been incorporated in the State of Maryland and will be a non-profit arm of the New Deal Café. As such, it will be able to accept donations and apply for grants and other moneys to support the arts at the café.

Ray Stevens, president of the New Deal Café; Rick McMullin, local stained glass artist/teacher and volunteer in charge of music at the café; and Barbara Simon, president of Greenbelt Association for the Visual Arts, are heading up this effort. Simon is the temporary president of the new organization. The New Deal Café, although organized as a co-operative is not a non-profit organization. Therefore, it is unable to accept tax-deductible donations or apply for arts grants.

Simon indicated that it would take several months for the new Friends to obtain its non-profit status from the IRS. In the interim, they will be publicizing the new organization. They intend to have a table at the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival to describe how people can support the music programs, art exhibits, and literary events at the café. This will be followed up with an organizational meeting in October. The non-profit status is expected to be approved by the end of the year.

The New Deal Café, itself, is still in need of volunteers and donations and this new effort will coordinate with it, not replace it.

Donation Drop-Off

The city's Donation Drop-Off, which it co-sponsors with the American Rescue Workers, will be held Saturday July 13, behind the Municipal Building from 9 a.m. until noon.

Bring clean, usable clothing, small household items, curtains, towels, bedding, sheets, toys, puzzles and books. Donations will be used by needy people in Prince George's county and are tax-deductible. Donation Drop-Off is held the second Saturday of every month.

Barbara Wells and Jaco B. ten Hove,
co-ministers

A key figure in many under-sea searches, rescues and recoveries, Mr. Bridge assisted in the recovery of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution's minisubmarine, Alvin, which had sunk off the coast of Cape Cod. For his part in the recovery of a hydrogen bomb lost from a U.S. airplane off the east coast of Spain, Mr. Bridge received the Navy Meritorious Civilian Service Award. He received a Navy commendation for helping with the rescue of 13 survivors of a Greek freighter which sank off the coast of North Carolina.

An avid canoeist, Mr. Bridge loved to paddle the Potomac River. He taught water safety and education to many. For over 30 years he was a canoeing instructor for the American Red Cross and was a certified canoeing instructor for the American Canoe Association. He was a member of the Olympic Sports Committee for Canoeing and took part in a successful drive to include Whitewater Slalom Racing in the Olympics. He was a member of the local whitewater pioneers who formed the Canoe Cruisers Association of Washington, D.C., which became the largest paddling club in the nation, with a current membership of over 1,000.

His marriage to Rosemary Bryn Bridge ended in divorce. He is survived by his beloved companion, Jean A. Goertner of Silver Spring; his former wife, Rosemary Bryn Bridge of Sequin, Washington; sons David of Great Falls, Va., Stephen of Clarksburg, Md., John and Charles of Sequin; brother James A. Bridge of Los Alamos, NM.; sister-in-law Mrs. Herbert S. Bridge, White River Junction, Vt.; 24 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held on July 25 at 3 p.m. at Sycamore Island.

30 Others

One might not expect to find another citizen to equal Burchick’s record of service to his community. However, Burchick is only one of 31 people who have been designated Greenbelt Outstanding Citizen during the past 40 years. The combined accomplishments of all of these persons collectively are indeed astounding. This year, another name will be added to this distinguished role of honorees and the list of accomplishments will grow even greater.

As usual, the Outstanding Citizen Committee will have a difficult job selecting just one person from the many nominated. The committee needs the help of all members of the community to help assure that everyone deserving of this award is considered and so that as much information as possible is made known about each nominee’s record of volunteer achievement. If you can be of help to the committee, please do so by writing to Bob Zugby.

Mach is a graduate of Michigan State University, earning a B. A. with honors in history, with minors in English and education. Prior to her work with cooperatives, her educational career included teaching Early Western Civilization, Modern European History, Asian Area Studies and Soviet Area Studies at Suitland High School.

Jean Jantzen, NCBA board member and a previous recipient of the Klinefelter Award, said of Mach, “Her broad background in cooperatives, her commitment to effective communications, and her insight into 21st century cooperative education methods make her an ideal recipient of this prestigious award.”

H. E. Klinefelter, for whom the award is named, was an outstanding writer, joining the staff of what was then called The Missouri Farmer magazine in 1931. He took over as editor of the magazine (now called Today’s Farmer) in 1939. Klinefelter was famous for his articles in defense of cooperatives and their future. He died in 1956.

Dear Citizens and Business Owners of Greenbelt:

The Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc. would like to inform the citizens and business owners of Greenbelt on our progress in regard to the year 2002 general fund drive. We are close to this year's goal due to your many generous donations. We are currently applying this valuable revenue source towards many needed equipment items and station improvements. As in the past we would like to remind those that have not as of yet made a donation to please consider doing so.

You may choose to mail your donation back to us or bring it to the station and hand it to one of our volunteers. We are located at 125 Crescent Rd., Greenbelt, Md. If you have misplaced your donation package you can still mail us your contribution, simply write your name and address on a file card or any piece of paper. Our mailing address is: Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Dept., P.O. Box #35, Greenbelt, Md. 20768.

As in the past I would like to emphasize strongly that you do not accept any solicitations over the telephone from persons identifying themselves as members or representatives of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc. For this annual general fund drive, we only ask for donations through the mail.

We have received some questions from concerned citizens as to some of our other scheduled fundraisers. Our Ladies Auxiliary conducts a picture/portrait drive in the fall. This fundraiser involves representatives from a contracted corporation that go door-to-door throughout the city of Greenbelt. They are instructed to show a city permit and a letter from the Ladies Auxiliary. During the month of December we conduct what we call our annual boot drive. We station our members at various intersections collecting donations.

Again, may I thank you for your very important past and continued support during our general fund drive.

Jay A Remenick
President,
Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc.

GHI to Buy Back Boiler Room and Replace 40 Block Roofs

by Sue Krofchik

Despite challenging problems – longstanding water back-ups, flooding and mold, 40 roofs in imminent danger of failing – the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) board of directors conducted business efficiently on June 13. There were solutions to everything.

The board agreed to buy back a boiler room filled with mold and standing water, and they also took a step toward possible revision of parking rules following complaints at 4 Gardenway.

The GHI insurance policy was renewed, despite no other bids; it reflected increases in premiums and the dropping of some coverages.

Flat Roof Failure

Forty block homes have roofs in imminent danger of failure, at an estimated cost of replacement of $280,000. GHI had planned and budgeted to replace 27 flat roofs in 2002 at a cost of $189,000. To make up the difference in cost, $104,000 will be taken from the slate roof replacement program. The eight slate roofs earmarked for replacement in 2002 will not be replaced until next year.

The board unanimously approved for first reading a contract not to exceed $171,664.50 to DDP Contracting, Inc. Eldon Ralph, director of physical plant, assured the board that DDP has excellent references and that he did extensive research to be sure they could do the work.

Boiler Room

A member living at 51 Ridge bought the boiler room at 32-G Ridge in 1990 for $1,000. An addendum to his contract was signed, stating that he would convert the area to usable space within two years and pay all rehab costs. He abandoned his plans, however, after continued flooding and multiple sump pump failures caused him loss of both materials and art work. He is leaving GHI and has asked the corporation to buy back the boiler room for $2,000.

The board was informed that the boiler room is covered in mold. It is not clear what knowledge GHI has had of the situation over the years. Recent inspection of the other 17 boiler rooms found many in deplorable condition, infested with mold, some with standing water.

In this case, the board agreed to buy back the boiler room. Discussion focused only on what amount to pay. By a vote of 7 to 2, $2,000 was awarded.

Margaret Hogensen felt $2,000 was appropriate because the member had suffered damage because GHI did not keep it free of water. Sue Ready, Joyce Abell and Chuck Hess supported $2,000 because the member had paid off the rehab loan for the area and had put more than $1,000 into it.

Favoring $1,000 were Betty Deitch, who felt the member neglected to keep up the boiler room, and Sylvia Lewis, who was concerned about mold. “We might be buying back more units at $2,000 if $2,000 is approved; we need to look at the implications,” she said.

Parking Complaints

GHI was asked by a member at 4 Gardenway to rewrite their parking rules, some of which are vague, and thus lead to their abuse. Members of the court have also petitioned the city for permission to use adjacent city land for five more spaces. This action, however, would require moving what is left of the existing playground further back. Currently there are 16 reserved spaces for 16 homes, and three visitor spaces. Eight of the 16 member families have two cars.

Some members are not following rules, it was reported, and are keeping their cars in visitor spaces 100 percent of the time. If they move them, it is often to another visitor space, or the car is just backed in and out of the same visitor space. “Unfortunately, the way the rule is written, there is nothing illegal about moving to another visitor space. There is no way to enforce it,” according to General Manager Gretchen Overdurff.

Sometimes a visitor space is used when the unit’s assigned space is empty. Audit committee chair Sheila Alpers told the board, “The rules are clear. Park in the assigned space first. People who don’t do that consciously choose not to follow the rules.”

The board will ask the Member Complaints Panel to meet with the offending members, and will ask the Member and Community Relations Committee to review parking rules for possible revision.

Insurance Renewal

The current insurance policy, due to expire the day after the board meeting, was approved for second reading at a cost of $216,460 with Polkes & Greenberg Insurance, Inc. This includes $19,733 workers comp coverage, now to be obtained through the umbrella group for Polkes & Greenberg instead of through the state of Maryland. Premiums with Polkes & Greenberg, excluding workers comp, have risen from $138,358 and $159,045 in 2000 and 2001 to $196,727 in 2002.

indicated that except for real estate taxes, this is the largest expenditure over which GHI has control. He asked to see “more variety of choices” in the future. Overdurff responded that GHI “did not have the option this year of asking for bids.”

Deductibles were raised and liability coverage for the board and officers was increased from $1 million to $2 million. Lead is no longer covered and personal injury coverage due to mold has also been dropped.

First Readings

The board approved up to $86,464 for J&M to repair underground storm and sanitary sewer pipes that have caused water backups in homes or flooding in yards at eight locations. The cause of the broken pipes was believed to be tree roots.

Also approved were underground drainage systems in three yards where members have had longstanding drainage problems. The contractor will be B&P Utilities at a cost not to exceed $11,600.

County Schools Set Registration Dates

The designated dates and times are as follows: through July 30, August 5 and 6 from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Summer registration for middle school students, grades 7 and 8 will be held on July 29 and 30 and August 5 and 6 from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m.

This Year's Fireworks Were as Good as Ever

by James Giese

It was a hot, hot Fourth of July, but the heat of the day tempered somewhat as the sun set, making the wait for darkness at Buddy Attick Park tolerable. At the start of the concert by the Greenbelt Concert Band, attendance at the park was sparse, but as evening approached the crowd began to swell until it seemed that all the open space was covered with humanity. From his vantage point across the lake where the fireworks were to be set off, Director of Public Works Ken Hall could not tell if the crowd was larger or smaller. "It's pretty much the same each year," he said. "You see a carpet of people across the lake."

Many of those who watched the fireworks thought that this year's were the best ever. Hall noted that actually, the quantity was a little less than last year. The same amount was budgeted for the purchase - $8,500. But this year, the Public Works fireworks crew under the supervision of Street Superintendent Eugene Diest tried something a little different. A majority of the shells were preloaded into mortar casings that were used only once. That reduces the number of crewmembers needed to set off the fireworks and increases safety, as there is always a risk that quickly reloaded mortar casings may not be properly done. While the crew had expected to electronically fire some of the larger pieces, the supplier was not able to furnish the needed equipment. Hall noted that this year there were fewer "duds" or misfires than last year, which may have made up for the fewer numbers.

In any event, the crowd was duly impressed with the 25-minute display and oohed and aahed at the many super spectacular bursts, straining their necks to look straight up at those that seemed to burst right overhead. The only observed glitch occurred when a section of the grand finale, one of three spectacular planned outbursts of combination rockets, failed to ignite and needed to be ignited after the rest of the display was over. More than satisfied with the finale as it was, most of the crowd considered the extra display to be an encore performance in response to its applause.
